JUDGE PARKER INVADERS STATE OF NEW JERSEY

hoots and hisses, handclapping and cheering. Mr. Lindabury appeared to be taken by surprise, and he repeated the reference to Panama, again mentioning the name of Roosevelt, which was cheered louder than ever. By this time the Democrats in the audience were ready to meet the attack, which they did with hisses for the interruptions and cheers for the Democratic candidate. In defiance of the attempt to rout him, Mr. Lindabury abandoned the speech he had prepared for the occasion, and talked directly at the disturbers. He seemed to relish the contest, and by 8:50, when the band leading the Parker procession, was heard to approach the armory, he had effectively silenced those who had cheered for the Republican party.

Splendid Ovation.

When Judge Parker finally reached the platform he was given an ovation equal in intensity to that at Madison Square Garden last night. Throughout his speech he was accorded marked attention. Judge Parker's invasion of New Jersey to make in the present campaign the first speech he has delivered outside of his native State was met with a resounding welcome. At the Broad Street Station in Newark several thousand people gathered, and despite extensive police protection passage up Broad Street was forced with great difficulty. Led by a squad of police and a military band, the party in two carriages was driven to Mr. Smith's home. A big crowd gathered there, and lines were established by the police to enable the party to reach the house. As Judge Parker mounted the steps there was a tremendous cheering. He lifted his hat several times and shook hands with many women who rushed to the steps.

Wiping Out Affront.

During the wait for Judge Parker at the armory, William H. DeLoe, candidate for Mayor, was called for and he made several remarks. He was interrupted by the appearance of Judge Parker on the platform at 9:03 o'clock. The demonstration was phenomenal. The Democratic enthusiasts cheered as though they were going out to meet him. The applause came from every part of the armory and the volume of sound was deafening. Flags were waved, chairs were hammered with hands and feet, some persons whistled, others shouted and all contributed their full share to the enthusiasm.

It was exactly twelve minutes when Judge Parker took a hand in quelling the Sunne Seasonable Advice.

It may be a piece of superfluous advice to urge people to use Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is almost sure to be needed before winter is over, and much more prompt and satisfactory results are obtained when taken as soon as a cold is contracted and before it has become settled in the system, which can only be done by keeping the remedy at hand. This remedy is so widely known and so altogether good that no one should hesitate about buying it in preference to any other.

until Judge Parker began to speak to take a special train for Jersey City, where he also made speeches before returning to New York to-night. The demonstration outside the armory as the party was escorted to the special car was even greater than that which greeted his entrance to the armory. It is estimated by Democratic leaders that fully as many persons were unable to get into Essex Troop armory as the full number in the audience.

ANOTHER FINE MEETING.

Judge Parker Accorded an Ovation in Jersey City.

(By Associated Press.)
NEW BRUNSWICK, Nov. 1.—An audience that filled Essex Troop armory, N. J., to overflowing remained until 10:50 to greet and listen to Judge Parker to-night. When he appeared they gave him a volleys of cheering lasting seven minutes. As soon as he entered the hall he at once went to the front of the stage, shook hands with the chairman of the meeting and then faced the audience, which had mounted the chairs and was cheering wildly and waving flags. Judge Parker bowed several times. He took his manuscript from his pocket and stood ready to begin, but as the cheering died away it would be renewed again. A loud-roared man in the rear of the hall shouted: "Parker hasn't a big stick."
Judge Parker joined in the laugh that followed.
Judge Parker then began his prepared address and was intensely earnest and even dramatic at times in his delivery and manner.
He was frequently interrupted by applause and received another ovation when he concluded.
Judge Parker said:
"Because we are opposed to the purchase of the electorate and have felt it our duty to say so, those who would corrupt it to the end that their power to plunder the people may continue, cry out, in these closing hours of the campaign, that the business interests would not be safe with a Democratic administration."
"This cry is false, and those who utter it know it."
"We favor a healthful prosperity in which the people share."
"We would encourage the accumulation of property and would protect the present possessors of it in that possession, under all circumstances. But we would do all we could to take away from them what they have, and we would do all we could to oppress the people which they now exercise. In other words, we would put forth every effort to thwart their legal methods of collecting tribute."
"Illegal methods of making money do not constitute legitimate business, although these who resort to them may pose as business men. Our purpose is to deprive, so far as possible, these illegal combinations of their present illegitimate advantage."
"As I have taken occasion to say before, and I deem it my duty to say again, the trusts are furnishing the money with which they hope to control the election."
"I am sorry to be obliged to say it. If it were not true, I would not say it to gain the Presidency or any other earthly reward, but it is true and that being so, it became my duty to warn the people of it."
"The New York Tribune of this morning publishes a dispatch from Washington, under the head of 'Corleyou False Accusation' with a sub-head saying that he 'Has Not Extorted Campaign Contributions From Corporations.'"
"It gives what purports to be the statement of a man who withholds his name. He is described in the Tribune as 'a man who knows all that occurred at Mr. Corleyou's last call on the President, whether it was the one or the other left in doubt.'"
"But in any event it is of no consequence which one it was, for these charges cannot be met anonymously. There are only two persons who can interest the people on this subject. If they have anything to say, let the people would like to have it said promptly."
"Weeks have been since the New York World, the New York Tribune and the Brooklyn Eagle made charges covering fully this, the most vital question before the people—charges that were repeated in every part of the country, the former propounding ten questions, beginning with 'How much has the best trust contributed to Mr. Corleyou?'"
"There has been plenty of time to answer these questions, but they have not been answered and we will not wait."
"It is for the people now to say whether the trusts of this country shall be permitted to control the national government, whether they have the power to levy tribute and to control the government."
The candidate left the hall after concluding his speech and was met by a cheering throng and a shower of flowers and delivered the same speech.

Watson at Thomasville.

(By Associated Press.)
THOMASVILLE, GA., Nov. 1.—Thomas E. Watson, candidate of the People's Party for President, spoke here to-day, and for an hour and a half he attracted a large audience. He was warmly received and his arguments against class legislation and Federal taxation of native-born citizens were enthusiastically received. He was here to-day to deliver a series of lectures on the negro question in the South.

Tillman's Plain Talk.

(By Associated Press.)
MOUNT PLEASANT, S. C., Nov. 1.—Senator Benjamin R. Tillman, of South Carolina, spoke to a large audience here to-night. He talked plainly on the negro question in the South.

NO DANGER OF WAR OVER NORTH SEA AFFAIR

Seiborne, first lord of the admiralty, and Lord Battenburg, Director of Naval Intelligence, were all in conference and it was openly hinted that they were planning the first stroke of war. As a matter of fact, they like Lord Lansdowne were engaged in considering a plan that had been suggested for the international conference at London. When all London thought was in this state of mind the Foreign Office decided to adopt a course most unusual and in order to allay the public excitement, gave out to the press the following statement:

"Before the Russian fleet left Vigo instructions were given to the Russian admiralty to view to preventing injury or inconvenience to neutral shipping during the passage of the Russian fleet to the Far East."
"In compliance with Russia's engagement four Russian officers have

"The two governments are now discussing the terms with reference to the International Commission, which will be entrusted with the proposed inquiry."

The Foreign Office is intensely irritated at the construction placed upon what they declare must have been mere fleet and garrison exercises.

The Associated Press is authorized to state that no orders have been given for the concentration of the Russian fleet at the departure of Admiral Rojestvensky's squadron. Both the Russian embassy and the Foreign Office affirm that the negotiations to-day were entirely confined to the selection of International Commission. The admiralty late this evening refused to discuss the reports of activity at Gibraltar, but it was intimated that the movements were part of a pre-arranged plan rather than the result of orders following the announcement of the departure of the Russian fleet from Vigo. Ambassador Benckendorff had a most cordial interview to-day with the King, who, it is understood, expressed for transmission to St. Petersburg, his satisfaction at the present method of settling the dispute.

GARRISON MOBILIZED.

The Channel Squadron Is Ordered to be in Readiness.

(By Associated Press.)
GIBRALTAR, Nov. 1.—The garrison has been mobilized and the artillerymen have been ordered to take up their positions at the different batteries of the Rock. The Channel Squadron has been ordered to be in readiness at an hour's notice and has started for the coast of the Rock. The mobilization caused disquietude, as the regular mobilization terminated October 30th.
All the quick-firing batteries were named this afternoon and detachments of infantry were detailed for duty on the commercial and detached vessels. The searchlight stations are being strictly guarded.

Are Strictly Patrolled.

(By Associated Press.)
GIBRALTAR, Nov. 1.—British warships strictly patrolled the straits all night long. They intercepted a collier, the London Bridge, bound from Barry for Fort Said, and brought her in here at noon.

HEAVY FIRING HEARD.

All Russian Warships Leave Vigo, Spain.

(By Associated Press.)
VIGO, SPAIN, Nov. 1.—All the Russian warships left here at 8 o'clock this morning. The Russian squadron was followed by the Spanish cruiser Extremadura. Heavy firing was later heard in the distance, which proved to be artillery practice.

The British cruiser Thetis arrived here this afternoon. Three Russian battleships, whose nationality as yet is unknown, have arrived off Cies Island.

GIBRALTAR, Nov. 1. 10 P. M.—The fleets have not moved.

RUSSIA NAMES ONE OF HER COMMISSIONERS.

(By Associated Press.)
ST. PETERSBURG, November 2.—A. M.—The government has appointed Admiral Kaznakoff, a member of the Admiralty Council, as one of the International Commission on the North Sea affair. The name of the second commissioner has not yet been announced.

Sign Language

The use of sign language dates from remotest antiquity. The advantage of the sign is that it expresses much in little, it is quickly comprehended and easily remembered.

Above we have the words Quality, Cleanliness, Freshness as expressed in shorthand—a modern sign language.

Here we have a much more simple symbol, the trade mark of the National Biscuit Company, which means Quality, Cleanliness and Freshness in Biscuit, Crackers and Wafers. The products of the National Biscuit Company are sold in air tight packages, with this trade mark in red and white, on each end of the package, as a guarantee of the quality of the contents.

enemy assaulted our mine, projected against Sungshu Mountain. Our men bravely withstood the attack, but were forced to lose a portion of the mine, which, however, was regained with the assistance of our artillery at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.
A mine directed against Rihlung Mountain fort reached the outer limit of the fort last night. A portion of the outer limit of the fort was blown up.
Against the outer casement of the eastern point of the fort, lying north of East Keekwan Mountain dynamite was applied twice last night, causing wide openings and killing several of the enemy inside the casemate.
Our bombardment is proving increasingly effective. A number of shells from our heavy guns are taking effect.
Our naval guns exploded a magazine on the Sitalyangkou.
Five Russian ships which were being used in clearing mines were also bombarded. Three of them were heavily damaged and the other two were set on fire.

"Did you and Mr. Burke have any conversation with Mr. Crawford about this matter?" asked Mr. Lee.
"Mr. Crawford met us, spoke and then asked us what we knew about the case. I told him what I had heard Burke say. He then explained to the effect that any remark he had made about Mr. Crawford was simply to his line equipments and general prosperity. I told Mr. Crawford that nothing he could possibly say could influence in any way, manner or degree, the result of the case. I had to do so to repeat what I heard Burke say. When I made this statement Mr. Crawford declared: 'Well, good fellows are going to say anything like that I shall have to anticipate your testimony by explaining to the jury what I meant by my reference to Mr. McGuffin.' He said he would anticipate the testimony, did he?" asked Mr. Lee.
"Anticipate is the word he used, sir."

"Both sides were now through. Captain Woods suggested that the Commonwealth might have something more to say later. 'Honor is aware,' he declared, 'that in many important cases in Virginia, even after the decision of the court, there has been found necessary to introduce new evidence.'"
"Let us have no misunderstanding," said Mr. Lee. "If the gentlemen of the court, the prosecution desire more time, we are ready to defer to them. But we want the testimony finished before we go further."

"If you state positively, sir, that you are through, we will do the same," replied Captain Woods.
"We are through," said Mr. Lee, promptly.
"We are through," echoed Captain Woods with equal promptness.
"Then, gentlemen, the evidence in this case is closed," said Mr. Lee.
"I am through," said Mr. Lee, promptly.

ATTACKED BY JAPS

(By Associated Press.)
ST. PETERSBURG, November 1.—A dispatch from General Kuropatkin under current date, announces that no engagements were reported last night.
General Sakharoff, telegraphing yesterday, reports that reconnaissance were made October 30th on the Russian left flank in a southwesterly direction to a chain of mountains south of the village of Sandzuy, where volunteer sharpshooters and half a squadron of Cossacks drove a company of Japanese infantry and a squadron of cavalry out of the mountain range. The Russians advanced three miles southwest. The same day Russian cavalry made a strong reconnaissance out and the Russians occupied noisance on the left bank of the Hum River towards the fortified village of Fuyegandzuy. The Japanese were driven out and the Russians occupied the village. The Japanese retired to a fortified position a mile and a half south and opened a cross fire on two Russian batteries. A squadron of Cossacks attacked a Japanese battery, and the Russian scouts advanced, but meeting with earthworks and wire entanglements they retired. The Cossacks lost forty men killed or wounded.
General Sakharoff says: "The cavalry reconnoitered and ascertained the enemy's number and position."

PUZZLING SITUATION.

(By Associated Press.)
MUKDEN, Nov. 1.—The situation is rather puzzling. Neither side apparently is willing to assume a genuine offensive. The Japanese are showing greater activity. They are fortifying themselves, however, as if they intended to winter in their present positions. Two Russian cavalry detachments on Friday night carried out a reconnaissance along both sides of the lighting. Many of the horses designated for decoration have since been killed or are scattered. AFTERNOON SESSION.

The Evidence Closed and Instructions Offered.

(Special from a Staff Correspondent.)
CHARLOTTESVILLE, VA., Nov. 1.—The afternoon session of the trial of the case of the Commonwealth vs. Ernest Crawford, M. C. A. Hall. An exceedingly interesting program has been arranged, and the afternoon session of the trial will be held at the association auditorium by the Western Union Telegraph Company and the news will be read as fast as received. People are manifesting considerable interest in this undertaking of the boys. They are determined to raise four hundred dollars for the return of their rooms, and mean to keep at it until they succeed. They have already raised and hope to clear at least $100 on election night.

"Did you and Mr. Burke have any conversation with Mr. Crawford about this matter?" asked Mr. Lee.

PENNSYLVANIA'S REGULAR DIVIDEND

(By Associated Press.)
PHILADELPHIA, Pa., November 1.—At a meeting of the board of directors of the Pennsylvania Railroad to-day, the regular semi-annual dividend of three per cent was declared.
The directors of the New York, Philadelphia and Norfolk Railroad declared the regular semi-annual dividend of three per cent, and an extra dividend of two per cent, payable December 1st. This road is controlled by the Pennsylvania Railroad.

After More Scows.

The James River Improvement Committee last night at Norfolk City agreed to purchase articles and material necessary to keep the new dredge in good condition. The committee also decided to advertise for two scows. Other routine work of no public interest was done, and the committee adjourned. Those present were Chairman Curt's, Harry Scott, Peters, Turpin, Wiltshire, Funsten, Gordon, Tully, Myers and Starke.
